(BY NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(Exclusive Dispatch.)—The State Department today announced that it had refused to issue a passport to General Maas, commander of the revolutionary forces in the state of Coahuila, Mexico, who had been in the United States for some time. The department also announced that it had refused to issue a passport to General Huerta, who had been in the United States for some time. The department also announced that it had refused to issue a passport to General Piedad Negras, who had been in the United States for some time.

Gen. Maas turned down. In order to obtain a passport, the general had to appear before the department and explain his reasons for wanting to cross the border. The department refused to do so, stating that it was not in a position to do so.

It was called to the attention of the department that the general had been in the United States for some time and that he had been in the United States for some time. The department refused to do so, stating that it was not in a position to do so.

The day also brought forth indications that the President and the Senate Democrats are getting together on the currency bill. There was a good deal of commotion among the Senators this morning when they read a Washington newspaper, a report quoting Mr. Wilson as saying that any Democrat who opposes him on currency legislation is a rebel.

Senator Kern, the Democratic leader, finally consulted the President, who emphatically denied making a statement. The discussion brought out the fact that there is little difference between the President and the Democratic Senators who are opposing the bill.

VANDERLIP'S VIEWS. Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank of New York, told the Senate Banking Committee today he had no important features of the administration currency bill. Mr. Vanderlip, however, criticized adversely certain points, notably the independence of the regional reserve banks.

A repetition of the panic of 1907 from such causes as brought it about would be impossible under the proposed banking system, Mr. Vanderlip said. He said the call loan market would be greatly minimized in importance and therefore there would be no need for the call loan market.

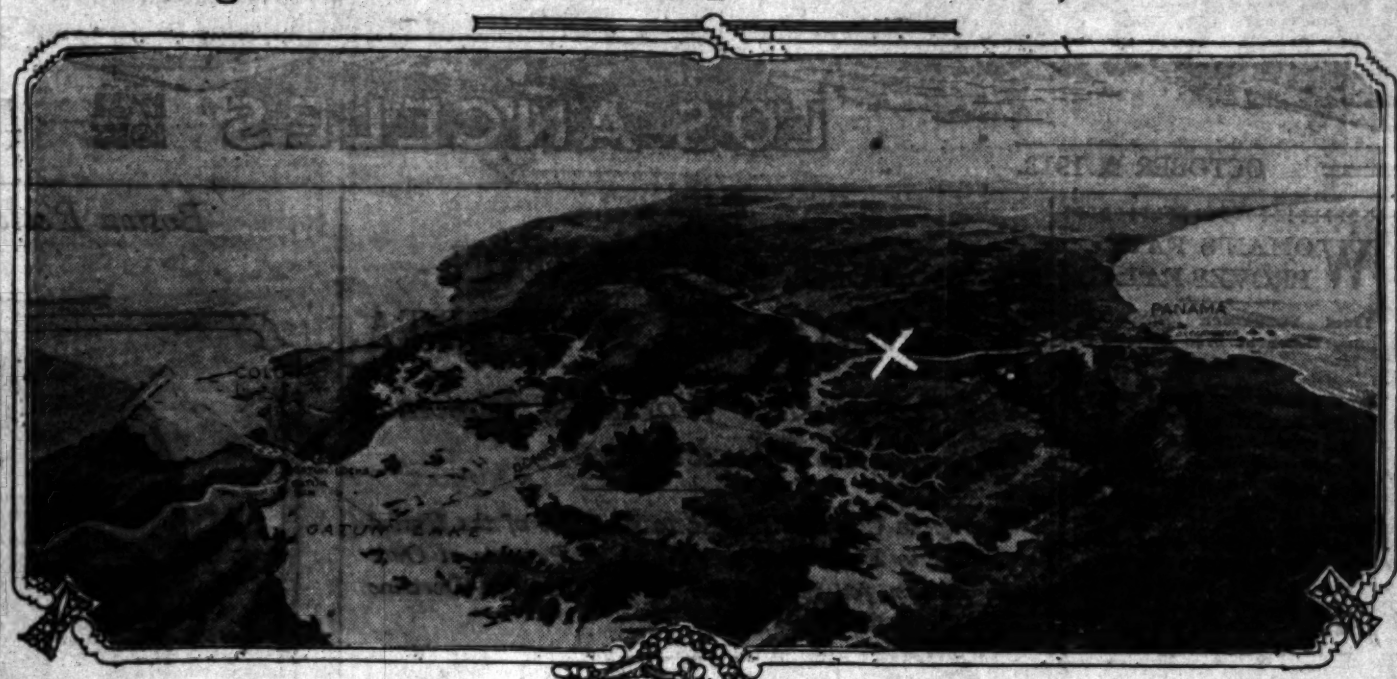

Another point made against the bill by Mr. Vanderlip was that it would be a method of selecting boards of directors of the reserve banks, control which would be entirely in the hands of small banks. He said banks with a capital of $10,000,000 would have the same power in selecting directors as a bank with a capital of $100,000,000.

Boston Convention Adopts Resolution Criticizing Currency Measure Which It Declares Will Cause Hardship—Proper Legislation for Financial Health Emphatically Demanded.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

BOSTON (Mass.), Oct. 8.—(Exclusive Dispatch.)—Members of the American Bankers' Association, in the most largely attended convention they ever held, voted almost unanimously today their disapproval of the Glass-Owen currency bill as it passed the House. The convention, which was held in the Hotel Marlborough, adopted a resolution which declared that the bill would cause hardship and that proper legislation for financial health was emphatically demanded.

FEAR POLITICAL CONTROL. The letter referred to the "taxation without representation" feature in the measure and laid particular stress upon the danger of control of the banking machinery by political appointees.

BANKERS CONDEMNATION OF THE CURRENCY BILL.

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—The Currency Commission of the American Bankers' Association reported today to the convention here, asserted that it favored the old National Monetary Commission bill and opposed the currency measure now before Congress for the following reasons: Because under the old plan investment by bankers in the stock of the Central Reserve Association was elected, not compulsory; whereas, under the proposed bill bankers must subscribe one-fifth of their capital stock in the Federal reserve banks or go out of business.

EXCERPTS FROM REPORT. "It has been proclaimed in Congress," said the report, "that many features of the pending measure are similar to provisions of the bill reported by the National Monetary Commission, which the bankers in convention approved. The question is asked: 'Why, if the bankers approved such provisions in the so-called Aldrich bill, do they oppose similar provisions in the so-called Glass-Owen bill?' This is the reason:

(a) Investment in the stock of the Central Reserve Association created by the bill of the Monetary Commission was permissive, not compulsory; banks might invest if they chose, or not invest at all. The bill of the Glass-Owen bill is compulsory. The individual banks have a minority representation in the management of the Federal reserve banks and have no voice whatever in the selection of the Federal Reserve Board, which dominates the Federal reserve banks.

Episcopal Elect.

Important matter before the convention today, inasmuch as the selection of that officer was awaited by a majority of the deputies and the bishops as well, who believed that it would force the two sides of the convention, commonly known as "high" and "low",
to show their comparative strength.

Only two nominations were made for a presiding officer in the house of deputies. The two names placed before the house were those of Dr. William T. Manning, rector of Trinity Church in this city, regarded as one of the strongest leaders of the "high church" movement, and Dr. Alexander Mann, rector of Trinity Church, Boston, whose leadership was sought by those calling themselves "low churchmen." When the vote was taken it was found that Dr. Mann had been elected by a vote of 285 to a vote of 244 for Dr. Manning. On the motion of Dr. Manning the vote was made unanimous for Dr. Mann, and thus was decided the question of the "high church" movement, and the "low church" movement.

Minister to the Dominican Republic,
James Sullivan, has induced the warring factions in the country to sign a peace pact, and the revolution, headed by Gen. Horacio Vasquez against the government of the provisional President, Jose Bordes Valdes, is at an end. Sullivan made it known that the last civil war in this republic has been fought. In the future any uprising, he says, will be stamped out as criminal. The American policy as announced by Mr. Sullivan, has been accepted by all parties regardless of political affiliations.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY.
At the new building center at Washington and Main streets there have recently been built several large apartment-houses, and they are being rapidly filled, therefore there is a great demand for several stores in this vicinity. This has been anticipated by building several stores which should be immediately occupied. There is room for all classes of business, and an interested parties we desire to help the good work in this section. Rent at this time can be had very reasonable. Those who are looking for a new location and who are responsible can have an opportunity seldom found. See the Central and Pacific Improvement Corporation at No. 1214 South Main street for renting of stores.—[Advertisement.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Oct. 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. George Hoole, wife of the assistant foreman of the job department of the Illinois State Register, was struck by an automobile in front of her home, No. 443 North Sixth street, in this city last evening. She died at St. John's Hospital three and one-half hours later, having sustained concussion of the brain when her head struck the brick curbing.

Her husband, returning from work, found a throng gathered around his wife as she lay in the street unconscious. Mrs. Hoole was crossing the street to return home after calling on a neighbor, Mrs. Joseph Debraux, adjacent to St. John's hospital.

Economize Sensibly When You Purchase Rugs, Furniture, Draperies for Your Home

Thinking people do not select rugs and draperies as they do hats, for instance—to be worn a season and then discarded for newer style. House furnishings are usually chosen for a lifetime's service—don't, then, make the mistake of buying cheap or tawdry goods. You will find our selections first-class, and our prices surprisingly low!

Let Us Sell You Furniture

We carry very little furniture here in the store, but through our arrangement with one of the local wholesale furniture houses, we can fill any order, large or small—at a saving over regular retail prices. We'll be glad to explain details, if you are interested.

TIGERS AGAIN SKIN BEAVERS.

Bill James Allows Only One Clean Hit.

Wildness and Error Figure in His Downfall.

Baum Holds Portland to Path of Tallies.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

The all-around William James yesterday performed the remarkable feat of holding the Tigers to one clean hit and still getting licked.

The score was 3 to 2. First, by painful surgery, the Tigers are crawling up on the ball team from Beaverville, and Mr. McCredie is beginning to show undisturbable signs of discouragement. Things are really beginning to perk up quite a bit in the local industry, and if the Tigers take a couple more general calls will be issued for the Hoosier Club or Magaphone. Affinity to get busy and blow their blue in the face.

SPIDER IN TAME.

Fitted against the evergreen party from Portland was the greatly beloved Spider Baum. Baum was hit seven times, but was not anywhere near as wild as James, and therein lies the secret of his success.

James fanned nine, passed six and came near committing manslaughter with his fast one couple of times. Braheer and Kane were those to suffer bodily anguish at his hands.

The only honest-to-goodness hit back off James was slammed out by the grand little demolisher of pitchers, Professor O'Rourke. In the eighth, Peter pushed a liner to right field, scoring Kane from second with what eventually proved to be the winning run.

A WEAK ONE.

In the fifth inning Baum scratched out a weak, sticky drive which was recorded as a hit after mature deliberation. It was a slow bouncer over James. Rodgers, thinking that Bill would be able to handle it, carried too long in the rear. When the ball finally eluded James, Rodgers became panic-stricken and juggled. It is a question, however, whether he could have slipped the runner with clean fielding; for Baum claims that he is very fast in getting down to first.

James reared into the lead in the first inning, accomplishing this remarkable feat without the aid of a back hit. Carle's clutch single, a second on Kane's third strike, Baum also walked. Braheer drove the ball into the dirt in front of the plate. Fisher lumbered around and not a speed and dug it out. He then threw Braheer out at first. Carle, being a man of dash and spirit, came clear home from second, sliding into the plate ahead of Derrick's return to Fisher.

DICKIEY RUN DOWN.

Bayless caught a little extra mileage on the play, but was detected by Fisher, who threw to Rogers. Dick sought to retrace his steps to second, only to find that Rogers had thrown the ball to Davis. Dick, however, and Fisher, who whoever he turned there was a base ball. Dick says that he never saw so many baseballs before in his life. This is enough to discourage anyone, if kept up long enough, and Dick, being human, simply succumbed.

Baum fanned one of his three passes to the third, and it was this white-handed little Portlander's first run. Davis was the game, becoming so with one out. He took second on the cutting of James at first and was singled to third by the perceptive Chadbourne. Davis and Chad then became ugly, Davis leading the plate and Chad, an hour making away with second in the same underhand manner. These surreptitious were committed with two or three special efforts looking on.

BAUM'S HUM THROW.

That Davis was able to ravish the plate was due in no small measure to the fact that Braheer's return to Elmer was entirely too high to be of much use. Derrick ended the inning with a grounder to Braheer.

Venue took a modest lead with one run in the fifth. Litchi was spared when Davis permitted his grand slam to skim through his guard. McDonnell sacrificed, and a wild pitch placed Litchi at second after Elliott had tied to Lester. Baum, desperation depicted in every move, bounced the ball over James and Rodgers proceeded to add it. Baum beat Bill's beating, drove to first and Litchi scored. Carle popped to Rogers.

This lead, like all others earthly, was fleeting and destined to wither and disappear. In the seventh inning Portland happened along with the timing run, perfectly proper singles by Chadbourne and Derrick and a sacrifice fly by Kane producing the needed goods.

Kane reached third in the sixth with only one out, but the Tigers got to imagining that they were the Athletics and couldn't score him. Johnny walked, and stole second. Bayless' out placed him at third. James hit Braheer on the hip home with a fast one, chipping a piece therefrom about the size of the palm of your hand. He went to first, and gamely stole second. James, interrupted by Fisher's throw and almost, but not quite, got Kane, who had taken a burglar's lead off third. Right here James fanned twice, like a parakeet, O'Rourke fairly popping to Derrick and Litchi fanning.

JOHNNY BOOHER.

Kane made another attempt in the eighth and was more successful. He managed to get hit just hard enough to dirty his shirt, and again stole second. With the count three and two on Bayless, James purposely batted that dangerous gent a wide one. Braheer fanned to Chadbourne. Here O'Rourke majestically arose to the occasion and smote cleanly to right, the same sending Kane home and depositing Bayless at third. Litchi again demonstrated that James has the lion's instinct on him by hitting nothing but one matchless diamond.

Portland made an unadvised attempt to tie the score in the ninth, but was turned back at the psychological moment, or to be exact, at 4:15 p.m.

Kane opened the inning with a hit to right. Lester's sacrifice and Fisher's out advanced him to third. McCredie here began to marshal his reserves. The lame Mr. Lindley was sent in to hit for Davis, and hoped to first on a fast wild one. Krause, batting for James, fanned.

Kane was as displeased with him-

SIDELIGHTS ON THE WORLD'S SERIES.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mack made no secret of his pitching plans prior to the game. The lead pitcher sent Plank out for hitting practice and Schang accompanied the Gettysburg hero. Brown warned alongside Eddie, but owing to a sore knee the tall right-hander may not appear in the series. When Matty stepped out to limber up his malar arm he was accompanied by Tarsaus, Marquard and Dempsey. But word had gone the rounds that McGraw proposed throwing his best bet against the American League champions.

Uncle Ben Shibe made himself solid with 100 correspondents by treating to coffee, sandwiches, libations and perfect prior to the contest. Every train playing between Gotham and Quakertown this morning was crowded to the guards with baseball enthusiasts. Several hundred came over last night in the wake of the two armies.

Thunderous applause greeted Frank Baker when he went to bat in the first inning. But the Maryland slugger trying his best to produce another home run, proved easy picking for Matty and the fade-away, which registered a strike-out.

The Giants appeared on the field attired in their regulation road tops of blue and grey. All during the Athletic hitting practice the corps of newspapermen worked busily among the crowded heads.

Enthusiasm was lacking until half past one when the stands filled and brought the home-making saints. There has been little cheering in the two games, and only when some unusual play is engineered does the old-time bug rise to make himself known.

When the Giants went on the field last word went the rounds that McKee would be out of commission, the odds which favored the Mackmen 18 by 5 by virtue of their victory of yesterday, took a further leap.

There was a generous cheer when he stepped on the mound for the first round, and as inning after inning passed with the veteran holding the local wall-poppers at bay the folks of this town learned to respect the aged warrior.

self that he forgot to run when Elliott dropped the third strike.

Plank had Burns' number at the plate. The young Giant feller failed to hit five times and on three occasions was laid away a victim of strikes. Once he drew a pass and in another trial flied to Murphy. Matty pitched just five balls while retiring the Mackmen in the second. Strunk rolled to Doyle, Barry hit the first ball to Burns and Lapp fanned on three swings.

Doyle was the most unhappy man in the United States when he loosed his wild throw in the ninth inning and let Abiedo runners perch on second and third with none out. But Witte saved the day for Matty and tonight Larry is feeling right part.

Mack sent his young men out with instructions to swing at the first ball pitched by Mathewson, hoping that some hit would come together, but the Giant always had "something" on that first ball, and the Mackmen failed to make good.

Fletcher, with two strikes, one good for a couple of runs, McLean, who caught a beautiful game in addition to nicking a pair of safeties, and Matty himself were the bright particular stars—not overlooking in the least the strenuous Mr. Witte. Baker, Eddie Murphy and Strunk were star performers for the home guards.

The biggest ovation of the afternoon in Shibe Park was tendered Walter Johnson, Washington's smoke-bait wizard, when he motored to the home plate at 1:30 o'clock in the Chalmers car voted him for being the most valuable player in the American League. While the two contending champions forces stood with bared heads, the king of pitchers became an automobile owner, then piloted his car off the award.

Philadelphia has no Conner's Right, but it has something just as good. On Twentieth street is a row of two-story houses, with flat roofs. Matty, chairs and couches were placed on the roofs and tickets are sold from 75 cents up. The average fan will have to pay 1.50. A seat behind a chimney with the privilege of looking around it costs 10 cents.

Gov. John K. Tener, old-time ball player, and still one of the most ardent devotees of the national pastime, was escorted from the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel at 1 o'clock this afternoon to Shibe Park by a squad of motorcycle patrolmen.

Ground rules, which prohibited fans from squatting upon the greens, or holding down temporary seats, put a crimp in the attendance in Shibe Park. When the count was given at 1:55, it became apparent to the press-box crew that the contesting players were in for a slight falling of in total receipts which go to make up the golden purse. The crowd which witnessed the first game of the series on the local grounds was the smallest on record since Shibe Park became a battleground for championship contenders.

Rain, which threatened to prevent the battle, almost had a tendency to smash the business of ticket speculation. Prices went soaring when it seemed certain that the game would be played. One speculator on Chestnut street disposed of six $5 seats to one person for $30, an advance of 15 on each ticket. Five dollars for a $2 seat was the price frequently reached and a number of sales of 15 seats for $10 were recorded.

Though neither manager would commit himself on pitching prospects, it was hinted about town that Jeff Tarsaus would do the rifle-pit duty for the National Leaguers in the third contest, opposing Bob Shawkey.

As the result of the beating administered Plank this afternoon, Manager Mack finds himself up against a tough problem in his layout of twisting plans. Had Plank copped this giving the Mackmen the straight, Connie could have taken chances with Bush, Houck, Shawkey and Brown, meanwhile banking on another workout by Bender. But the dope has been upset, and now "Foxy Connie" will have to give his young bloods the acid test. That Shawkey will be the choice tomorrow is a safe prediction.

When they rased upon the crippled and mopey New York prior to the start this afternoon, members of the Athletic camp pictured for themselves another victory, but they reckoned without their host. In Witte and McLean, the Little Napoleon dug up a couple of nifty subs.

Board of Trade Approves National Park.

PARADENA, Oct. 8.—A large auto truck, used to haul building material for the Mt. Wilson observatory, went over the edge of the road at Buzard's point, a place five miles up from the foot of the peak, yesterday, and rolled over the precipitous mountainside. The driver, Thomas Nelson, went with it. When about fifty feet down the declivity the truck turned over and Nelson was tossed clear of it. This saved his life. He was picked up much bruised and battered, but not seriously injured, and taken to the Pasadena hospital.

Prof. W. B. Adams, an astronomer of national prominence, and a workman, who accompanied them, were also riding on the truck. They had descended an instant before it went over the precipice and were not hurt. The accident occurred at 11 o'clock in the morning as the truck was making its descent. It was loaded with three tons of cement. The trip was made without incident until the turn at Buzard's point was reached. The fall from the road at this point is almost perpendicular and the turn has long had the reputation of being the most dangerous of any. So as to make it more difficult, it is necessary to back the truck. This he proceeded to do, but when he had backed far enough he found the truck would not hold. The truck continued slowly to move backward and downward and Prof. Adams and the assistant jumped out to get stones under the wheels. Before they could do this the rear wheels reached the edge of the road and the machine tilted and shot off into space. The weight of the load of cement made the fall of the truck such a heavy one that the automobile was practically dashed to pieces on the rocks below.

Prof. Adams and the assistant descended and helped Nelson back to the road. There is an emergency telephone near the place of the accident and from it they telephoned to the hotel on the summit of the peak and H. L. Kline, the driver of the hotel car, and a brother-in-law of the injured man, was summoned, as well as Dr. H. H. Clark of Pasadena. Kline had just reached the hotel. He turned his machine and went to the assistance of Nelson, whom he brought to Pasadena.

The destruction of the truck may cause some delay in the completion of the new 100-inch telescope that is being set up there.

ELECTION IS CALLED.
The Board of Education at a special meeting yesterday afternoon set November 12 as the date of the school bond election. The amount of the proposed bond issue than to be submitted to the voters of the district was fixed at $151,500. Of this sum, $150,000 is to be used on elementary schools and $15,000 on the High School. The election was purposely set far enough distant so that voters who are not registered may register before election day.

Practically every school in the city will benefit in some degree by the bonds, if they carry. The amount apportioned to the High School will be used to complete the equipment of Polytechnic group of buildings, which were occupied for the first time when school opened a few days ago. Grammar schools are to be repaired and new schools are to be constructed in Altadena and Lamanda Park.

The proposal of the board to erect a school building near the corner of Glenarm street and South Los Angeles avenue has been abandoned.

A parent-teacher organization, similar to that of the other schools of the city, will probably be formed at a meeting to be held at the new John Muir intermediate school this afternoon.

The proposal to endeavor to have the government forest reserves near Pasadena declared a national park to the end that game and the trees and flora preserved, has been given the endorsement of the Pasadena Board of Trade, Charles D. Daggett has been appointed chairman of a special committee which will take steps at once in an effort to bring about a thing about.

Miss Dorothy E. Foster, a popular young society woman of South Pasadena, was one of the passengers in the Knabenshush's dirigible balloon in a flight over the city yesterday. Other in the party were Dr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Condit of Pasadena and Leonel Armstrong of Altadena. Knabenshush says that he intends next week to begin making flights over the entire San Gabriel Valley.

The proposed change in the ordinance governing the installation of water mains urged by residents of the north part of the city, by which the city would lay extensions for the mains without taxing the property owners concerned, was the subject of a three-hour conference between the City Commissioners and the representatives of the three improvement associations of North Pasadena yesterday. The representatives of the associations were: Commissioner Sallabury, who is at the head of the municipal water department, strenuously opposed such a move.

RENDONDO BEACH BRIEFS.

Parents Meet New Teachers—Large Apartment-house Building—Taxpayers' League Organized.

RENDONDO BEACH, Oct. 8.—The Parent-Teacher Association entertained this afternoon at the Central grammar school building for the mothers to meet the teachers, many of whom are teaching here for the first time. A short program was given in the auditorium, after which tea was served by members of the association.

Work was begun today on a large apartment-house to be built at Emerson street and Sunset court. The house, which is being built by J. W. McLean of Los Angeles, will be the largest and finest apartment-house here. The house will have twenty-six apartments with a sun porch on the second floor and a large amusement hall in the basement.

A meeting of the business men and other property owners was held this evening in the Casino Cafe to organize the Rendondo Tax Payers' League to oppose the proposition of making Rendondo a city. The measure, which will be voted upon October 14.

The election is the only topic talked of throughout the city, at the numerous clubs, church gatherings, in business places and on the street, and it is predicted that the largest vote ever polled here will be polled on that day. Both the Prohibitionists and those opposed to the Wyllie local-option law, the measure to be voted upon, are working unceasingly, and public meetings, house-to-house canvassing and literature are all playing their part for both sides.

Pure as sunshine!
Yes, that is the only comparison we know of which does full justice to Campbell's Tomato Soup. It is made pure and kept pure from start to finish. Every material in it is sound and fresh and in perfect condition. Every process in its preparation is conducted with the utmost care and scientific cleanliness. It contains no coloring-matter; no preservative; nothing to impair its faultless quality. And it is sterilized after sealing, and by heat alone. Why not enjoy it on your table today? 21 kinds 10c a can. Look for the red-and-white label.

RIVERSIDE. COUNTY FAIR OPENS GATES.

Riverside Exposition Attracts Thousands of Visitors.

Exhibits Cover Every Department of Local Industry.

Grand Encampment Makes Nominations for Office.

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 8.—The county fair, the first project of its kind attempted in Riverside county, is attracting thousands. The character, extent and diversity of the displays placed are beyond the expectations of the most optimistic, and the unequalled scenic beauty of the grounds is added. Some of the largest tents procurable in the State are filled to the farthermost corner with exhibits. One is devoted exclusively to poultry, another to an extensive display of automobiles, another to the products of all sections of the county, from the orange groves of the citrus belt to the cotton fields of the Palo Verde Valley.

Local merchants have filled one tent with an artistic miscellaneous and educational exhibit, another section of the grounds is a display of live stock that excited the wonder of the average citizen, who is not as familiar as he might be with the character of stock raised in the alfalfa fields of the county. The Pacific Electric is furnishing free rides to the fair, and the water is over will break all records for traffic over the Magnolia-Underway line.

ENCAMPMENT UNDER WAY.
The opening feature of today's event is the connection of the I.O.O.F. grand encampment was the raising of the colors over Camp Ritter this morning. Several hundred school children, and the representatives of the various departments of the order, which was witnessed by the encampment officers and many of the most prominent members of the order in the county. The event for tomorrow is the competitive drill for a beautiful diamond-studded award. This will take place at Evans Athletic Park. Two classes of teams will compete. Class A cantons will include San Diego, San Francisco and Santa Ana. In class B will be Fresno, Santa Rosa and Pomona.

Officers were nominated as follows: For Grand Patriarch, George F. Ward of Riverside; for Grand High Priest, W. M. Avis of Pomona; for Grand Senior Warden, I. T. Bell; for Grand Scribe, William H. Barnes of San Francisco; for Grand Treasurer, Charles H. Benedict; for Grand Junior Warden, A. N. Bullock of Sacramento; for Grand Secretary, Max Kohner; for Grand Trustee, F. A. Wock; J. I. Ralph, H. S. Brown; for Grand Representative, Los Angeles; H. F. Wulf, Sacramento; C. L. Snyder, San Jose; G. F. Hudson, Stockton; E. H. Black, San Francisco; for Grand Representative, Los Angeles; H. F. Wulf, Sacramento; C. L. Snyder, San Jose; G. F. Hudson, Stockton; E. H. Black, San Francisco.

Following the automobile tour over the city and valley this morning, for which more than 500 delegates and lodges and their families, the encampment contingent was in the state capital for the evolution of the competitive drill, which was conceded to be one of the finest spectacles of the kind in the history of the order in California.

In class A were entered squads from San Francisco, San Diego and Santa Ana of twenty-four men each, including three officers. The judges will announce their decision as to prize winners on Friday. There are liberal cash prizes, but the most coveted trophy is the coveted sword, which will become the property of either San Francisco or San Diego, in case either wins. As both have firsts to their credit on two previous occasions.

Three army officers are judging the contests. Major W. F. Hovey, Jr., from the Fredrick A. Monterey, is the chief judge. The judges were heard at the reception tendered the grand encampment officers in the Airframe last evening. Grand Patriarch David being the particular guest of honor, along with General Commander A. R. Hitter, and General Commander J. K. Ritter.

PROSPECTS BRIGHTER.

That the Pacific Electric Railway Company will be able to make its desired line to Corona, a vital link in the chain which will ultimately bind this city to Los Angeles and the seaboard, is assured in the main, the spirit in which the railway company and the Chambers of Commerce of Corona and Riverside are attacking the problem of a right of way over the famed avenue.

With reference to the Pacific Electric right of way to Corona, the Board of Supervisors yesterday received a petition from Corona people asking that the railroad be given what it desires, namely, a double right of way fifty feet in width through the center of Magnolia avenue, between the corporate limits of the cities of Riverside and Corona. A committee consisting of Supervisors Flaherty and Hammer named to confer with the Pacific Electric relative to the matter.

The two Chambers of Commerce have unanimously agreed on a resolution which favors the proposed line, and the board of supervisors, with the proviso that the company maintain the present character of the center row of trees and provide for the crossings outlined in a proposed agreement already presented by the trolley people. This agreement provides that work is to be commenced on the road within sixty days after the deed is executed, and that the road is to be in operation within six months.

It develops that it is impracticable to secure a deed right of way along the northern side of the avenue, as recently proposed as a substitute by the Board of Supervisors, as considerable property would not be available.

INITIATIVE PETITION.

The initiative petition, having for its object the alteration of the charter so as to limit the powers of the Mayor and to enlarge those of the Council, was presented to the Common Council at today's session, but was later withdrawn on the advice of the City Attorney that it should have been presented first to the City Clerk for verification of the signatures.

The matter will be brought before the voters at the regular municipal election on November 18, at which time the City Auditor, two members of the Board of Education, and three Councilmen. Along with the initiative proposition will be one which comes before the voters under the provisions of the referendum. The latter requires that there be presented to the voters the question of the ratification of the action of the Council in passing a Sunday-closing ordinance for poolrooms.

BIG PROJECT IN SIGHT.

The receipt of information today that plans and specifications for the improvements and extensions planned for the municipal water system will be completed within a few days, indicates that work on portions of the system will be commenced in the near future. For report of the consulting engineers, filed before the board of engineers, calls for improvements aggregating about $240,000. This covers pipe lines, three-quarter mile pumps and additional fire hydrants.

GRAND OLD COUPLE.

Fifty-sixth Wedding Anniversary Celebrated by Whittier Minister and Wife.

WHITTIER, Oct. 8.—Whittier's "Grand Old Man," Rev. Thomas Armstrong, and his wife, celebrated their fifty-sixth wedding anniversary here today. They came to Whittier twenty-three years ago when the present city was little more than a barley field, and have resided here since, except for short times when Rev. Mr. Armstrong had pastoral work at Long Beach or San Francisco.

Today's celebration was assisted by about 200 friends of the aged couple who were held at the Friends of the Church. Here a real Quaker celebration was held, lasting nearly all day. At noon a bountiful dinner was served. Later a quartet of songs was sung by the pastor, Rev. H. E. McGrew, by Thomas Newlin, president of Whittier College, and by Rev. W. M. Perry, a former pastor of the church.

Rev. Mr. Armstrong is 81 years of age and his wife is 75. Both were born in Ohio and were bright members of the Friends Church. He was pastor of the local church for seven years, but for some years now has lived in retirement from pastoral duties, although participating actively in church interests. Armstrong has five children, Mrs. C. T. Allen and Mrs. W. E. Allen of Whittier, and three in San Francisco, Mr. J. E. Armstrong, Portland, Or., and J. S. Armstrong of Inyo county.

ONE VICTIM MAY DIE.

Jealous Lover May Be Charged with Murder—Woman Has Shattered Skull on Back.

RAN PEDRO, Oct. 8.—Charles Stout, who with Mrs. Beulah Gibson was shot and seriously wounded by Frank Pillsbury Monday night, is in a precarious condition. Dr. Wilson is unable to operate upon the man and it is now known that there is a bullet in each lung. His chances for recovery are slight.

Dr. Weldon was able to remove pieces of the spinal column from Mrs. Gibson's back this morning, but the spinal cord and the woman is still paralyzed from the waist downward. Pieces of bone were pressing upon the cord and it may be that now these are removed she will again have the use of her legs. Mrs. Gibson's chances for recovery are good, provided no complications set in. She has the advantage of youth, being but 24 years of age.

In summing up the two cases, Dr. Weldon said that Stout was probably delirious at the time of the shooting, but whether or not he would be paralyzed for the rest of her life time could not tell the results. Frank Pillsbury, the jealous lover who shot the man and woman, was brought here today from the Central Police station and confronted with the sufferers and later sent to the county jail.

The police took what may be Charles Stout's statement this morning. He said that he knew of no reason why Pillsbury shot him and that he had always considered Frank his friend.

Frederick Baker, of Long Beach, in an exhaustive paper, told about the commission form of government and the city manager style, his dissertation was read to the board of city government, as practiced in Dayton and other cities. E. M. Wilder of the committee on the form of government, followed along similar lines. He portrayed the results, faults and advantages of the commission form of government as in force in his city. He also thought the city manager form was best adapted to California cities.

"You don't know whether your city is in good or not under the present elective system until he is elected and given a tryout," said Wilder. "Some have the rare gift of executive ability to run the city's business."

REMEMBERED IN WILL.

A telegram from Buffalo gives the information that the will of Henry Kuhn, admitted to probate today by the probate court, has been given to his children, Mrs. Henrietta Turnbull and Maurice H. Kuhn of this city, $5000 each. The value of the estate is estimated to be $100,000. Maurice Kuhn is a theatrical man of Long Beach and president of the Kuhn Amusement Company, which is building a modern reinforced concrete playhouse on Ocean avenue.

MEXICANS ABSENT.

Twenty-five additional students registered last night at the Polytechnic night school, bringing the total to over 100. Some surprise is expressed by Superintendent Stephens over the non-attendance of about sixty Mexicans who had applied for this night schooling, but it is surmised that they have not been apprised of the opening.

Rexford Newcomb has been appointed vice-principal and has as assistants George Miller and George Blake, woodwork; John Turk, machinery; G. E. Hadley, bookkeeping and shorthand; Joseph Rogers, arithmetic and English; Alice Lamb, Spanish. Judge Craig in the Superior Court has rendered his opinion in the appeal case of George Ellis and Percy Copeland, president and local manager of the Home Telephone Company, reversing the finding of Police Judge Hart, who decided that the defendants were guilty of violating the city's telephone rate ordinance. Judge Craig finds that the defendants did not charge a higher rate than the one provided by the first rate or higher than the one previously reduced by publication.

Rev. F. M. Rogers, pastor of the First Christian Church, and L. J. Kaine, a layman of the same denomination, returned today from the Christian International Convention at Toronto.

Dr. Rogers was a member of the committee to decide the time and place for the next convention. This year's gathering was the first ever held outside of the United States. The attendance dropped from 5000 to 3000 in consequence of the railroad striking the South Bay which struck the rocks of the west jetty yesterday, will be pulled off when 200 yards of silt have been pumped from her hold. This will enable the wrecking crew to pull her from the rocks and beach the vessel so repairs can be made. A number of planks were torn from the bottom, but the damage is not thought to be serious. The dredger lies about fifteen feet from the west jetty and the water is washing over her amidships. When she struck the South Bay torn away about 250 feet of the false-work on the jetty.

FRESNO LEADS IN CONVENTION.

Big Delegation After League of Municipalities.

Commission Government Gets Share of Discussion.

Water Extension Rights Is Subject of Paper.

VENICE, Oct. 8.—Interest in the annual meeting of the League of California Municipalities centered today in the remarkable three-cornered fight between Fresno, Sacramento and Richmond for the honor of entertaining the delegates next year. The place of meeting for 1914 will be decided tomorrow afternoon.

Fresno delegates, twenty-two strong, seemed to have the advantage in numbers and in working powers, and it will not surprise the delegates if this city is chosen tomorrow. The entire city force of Richmond, fifteen delegates, came here with the avowed intention of capturing the plum, and E. M. Wilder, of Sacramento, is leading the delegates from the Capital City in the fight. A delegate from Monterey stertoriously announced this afternoon that his city was in the race, but his statement was regarded as having come a bit late.

Quite a little talk of the trend of sentiment regarding the next officers of the league was heard. It is the custom to alternate between the north and south in the matter of president. Oakland captured the officer last year, and it should go to the Southern California official this year. Frank E. Mayor of Santa Ana, seems to have a distinctive lead for president. President Mott favors him, but although the delegates say that they are doing absolutely no electioneering, the choice of president as voiced today seems to be between E. M. Wilder, vice-president, and George W. Stone of Santa Cruz. H. A. Stone of San Francisco, has been secretary for sixteen years, and will probably be re-elected. The election will be held Friday afternoon. President Mott this afternoon announced the following committees to report tomorrow: Committee on Resolutions, S. C. Evans, Riverside, chairman; Percy V. Long, San Francisco; N. E. Malcolm, Palo Alto; A. E. Snow, Fresno, and B. F. Hudspeth, Chico. Committee on Legislation and new state Constitution, C. L. Fredaker, Santa Maria, chairman; J. G. Hill, San Leandro; C. F. O'Neill, San Diego; C. N. Kirkbright, San Mateo, and D. E. Greene, Antioch. Committee on Memorialia, A. H. Glanville, San Francisco, chairman; E. M. Wilder, Sacramento; W. J. Bryan, Los Angeles. Committee on Standing Committees, Frank M. Smith, Oakland, chairman, Charles Tatcher, Venice, H. A. Mason, San Francisco.

Discussing the civil code of California and severely criticizing the lack of laws, which would enable shackled labor to do business as a mercantile firm, the delegates proceeded to tell during the afternoon general session, what was wrong with the municipal laws of the State.

Frederick Baker, of Long Beach, in an exhaustive paper, told about the commission form of government and the city manager style, his dissertation was read to the board of city government, as practiced in Dayton and other cities. WATER PROVISIONS.

B. D. Marx Green, City Attorney of Antioch and Pittsburg, reviewed the present status of the rights of municipalities on water extensions and improvements. The gist of his excellent paper was that, under the present laws, a water company could not be forced to furnish water for fire protection and could not be compelled to extend service mains in streets not covered by its franchise. The remedy, he said, lay in future legislation. Green said that it was hard to reconcile the seemingly ambiguous rulings of the Railroad Commission in water matters.

"Proposed Constitutional Amendments Affecting Cities" was the subject of a good paper by City Attorney Percy V. Long of San Francisco. He reviewed at length the troubles of San Francisco and Los Angeles in getting water across more than one county for use in the two cities.

The loss of revenue from taxes induced the counties of Alameda, Tuolumne and other counties to protest against the purchase by condemnation on the part of San Francisco of the Spring Valley Water Company, because this water company had vast sums into the treasuries of the divisions of the State. Long said that one of the proposed constitutional amendments was for the purpose of clarifying the legal principle that no improvement begun by any city could be taxed by a county.

"One of the greatest legal needs of California is a law much used in eastern cities," said Long. "This law would enable cities to purchase water rights as necessary for the completion of a public improvement and enables the city to sell at an advance after the improvement is completed, thus realizing part of the cost."

Long Beach.

LACK OF WATER KEEPS THEM OFF.
SHIPS OF LARGE DRAFT CANNOT ENTER THE HARBOR.
Yale and Harvard Fend Away to San Diego Because of Lack of Terminal Facilities—Beneficiaries of Buffalo Man's Will Here. Phone Decision Reversed.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 8.—Lack of water depth in the entrance of the Long Beach harbor is the only obstacle which prevents this city being made the home port of the Pacific Navigation Company's steamers Yale and Harvard.

This announcement was made to the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce committee at a conference today with the officials of the company. The harbor entrance has a twenty-foot depth at mean low tide, but the steamers have a draught of eighteen and one-half feet and are of such length that in the event of high swell the bow of the steamers would probably plunge into the bottom.

Manager Bennett of the navigation company said the question of coming to Long Beach to purchase the company was considered because of the Salt Lake and Pacific Electric terminals here, but the lack of water was a strong barrier. In consequence of the company's decision, the company will remove its principal terminal to San Diego, but will make Rendondo Beach a port of call. According to figures of the company, the Pacific Navigation Company spent $900,000 last year, $668,000 in Los Angeles and the remainder in San Diego.

Discussing the necessity of the immediate extension of the jetty to permit of the deepening of the harbor to twenty-five feet, the Chamber of Commerce will at its meeting tomorrow take steps to ask the government for a survey of the entrance as the first step in a removal of the effort to get governmental recognition of the inner harbor.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.
The Public Service Committee of the Council held its report yesterday for action by the Council today, recommending that a committee of nine, composed of the Mayor, chairman and seven citizens, form an annexation commission to create sentiment for the annexation of territory that is to be served with aqueduct water.

Two Japanese merchants, representing the Japanese business men of the city, protested before a Council committee yesterday against proposed annexation of territory that they deemed to be contrary to treaty rights. They say they will appeal to their Consul-General if the ordinance is passed.

Harbor Commissioner Gordon stated yesterday that the Pacific Electric officials have under consideration the purchase of $250,000 harbor bonds in lieu of the city paying real money for the construction of the street railway to San Pedro street.

The Council yesterday took action paving the way for the proposed new Arcade station by passing an ordinance relocating Southern Pacific tracks on the west side of Alameda street.

The Fire Commission yesterday committed itself to a policy of turning all horse-drawn apparatus into motor-driven vehicles.

Because she surreptitiously joined a motion picture company, the young wife in the divorce court yesterday was taken from her. The court would not permit her to be in the motion picture atmosphere.

COMMITTEE OF NINE ADVISED.

BODY TO BE DESIGNATED AS AN ANNEXATION COMMISSION.

Seven citizens to act in conjunction with Mayor and Chairman of Public Service Committee of Council to Advance Sentiment for a Greater Los Angeles.

A committee of nine, to be composed of Mayor Rose and Chairman of the Public Service Committee of the City Council, and seven citizens, is recommended to the Council to form an annexation commission for the purpose of creating sentiment for annexation or consolidation of all territory that can be served with the Los Angeles aqueduct water.

The report of the Public Service Committee was filed yesterday and will go before the Council this morning. It is probable there will be immediate action on adoption of the report, and that the commission will hold its first meeting during the present week.

The committee's report states: "In the matter of the message of the Mayor September 3, 1918, advising the Council to appoint a committee of citizens to act as an annexation commission, the Council has been asked to take up the matter of annexing thousands of contiguous territory to the extent of our aqueduct water limitations. We therefore recommend the following citizens be requested to act in conjunction with the Mayor and Chairman of the Public Service Committee:

Miles Gregory, George Dunlop, George Harrison, Charles W. Smith, Ralph C. Smith, Leslie Hewitt and J. A. Anderson.

In order that the committee so designated may properly fulfill its commission and submit a report as soon as possible, we recommend that the sum of $150 be set aside from the general expense fund for their purposes.

JAPANESE OBJECT.
CITY TREATY RIGHTS.

N. Sato of the Japan Importing Company, No. 410 South Broadway, and K. Kariya of the Sato Company, Japanese art and dry goods importers, No. 131 Winston street, appeared before the Public Service Committee of the City Council yesterday, as representatives of the Japanese merchants of the city, to protest against clauses in the proposed ordinance which would prohibit auction sales of "oriental goods" in street markets.

These men protested that the term "oriental goods" is so general that it includes every kind of merchandise shipped from the Orient, including Japan, China, Korea and the Philippines, and also objected to a proposed clause that would prohibit the sale of auctioneer's permits to foreigners.

"We do seriously object," declared Sato. "This ordinance, if adopted, would make trouble between the United States and Japan. We have rights under a treaty to do business here."

Sato and Kariya stated, while in the Council chamber, that if the ordinance as now framed is adopted, they will at once appeal to the Japanese Consul-General at San Francisco and take up the subject with Federal authorities. They stated, however, that they believe they will be accorded fair treatment by the City Council, and that the provisions of the ordinance can be settled upon without friction.

The Council committee decided to delay action on the ordinance and recommend that the City Attorney re-draft them, especially enumerating the classes of "oriental goods" that are to be included in the auction prohibition.

Further consideration of the ordinance will be given at the meeting of the Public Service Committee next Wednesday at 10 o'clock. At that time representatives of the Japanese Association, including all the Japanese merchants of Los Angeles, will be present.

GARBAGE—AGAIN.
BOARD DISCUSSES SITUATION.

The perennial subject of city garbage was before the Board of Public Works again yesterday. It was also before the grand jury, President Whiffen of the City Council having been summoned before that body to state, presumably, what the city is doing about securing a plant that will make possible the elimination of the hog ranches at Durbin.

C. D. Creuch, who has contracted to erect a reduction plant and pay the city $10 cents per ton for garbage, was before the board and stated that he will take from eight to ten months to get the plant in operation, but that all the machinery will be ready within six months, and that his concern will be prepared to handle every pound of city garbage when it opens the plant.

The V. D. Reduction Company, which now handles the garbage for long hauls, however, that it must be given ample time within which to dispose of its swine without loss, and asks for eight months' notification before the city delivers garbage to the new plant.

The proposal made yesterday, and which probably will be agreed to at a conference to be held today, was that the full eight months' notice should be given, and that the subject of the plant should be given one-third of the garbage the first month, two-thirds the second month and thus its plant would not be overtaxed to start with, and the hog ranchers could maintain hogs sufficient to handle the remainder.
